

I feel Echostar should be able to purchase VOOM. VOOM is not able to keep the present service delivery to its customers. The quality of programming has deminished and they have shown their inability to pay the bills. Echostar can take over and make the right decisions for customers.